

LORA WINES

Lora Wines come from an astonishing place: the region of Cuenca, in the eastern end of La Mancha. Here, the high plateau that dominates the center of Spain, is at its highest altitude, the soils are rocky and the weather turns cold. Pine and holm trees start to climb towards the near mountains and the vines struggle to survive between the warm sunny days and the desert cold nights.

A harmonic combination of Tempranillo and Shiraz with a touch of Merlot.

RED

Bright ruby-coloured, this wine has an excellent nose of violets, black cherry and earth notes. Its ageing in oak barrels gives the wine spicy aromas such as vanilla, pepper and toasty notes. On the palate it is soft and silky, delicate and round, with great balance between fruit, oak and spiciness. A perfect match to a wide range of food, such as grilled lamb and veal, a nice warming casserole, some good Spanish Tapas, all kinds of cheeses or just a glass on its own. A little secret? Try it with dark chocolate!
